Permission request to reproduce materials from the American Journal of Botany

Editorial Office E-MAIL: ajb@botany.org; FAX: 314-577-9515; POST: P.O. Box 299, St. Louis, MO 63166-0299 U.S.A. [Click on the first gray box and start typing. You may use a tab or the arrow keys to get to the next box.]

Date:

To: Botanical Society of America, Editorial Office of the American Journal of Botany

Dear Managing Editor,

I am writing to request permission to reprint the following material from the American Journal of Botany:

I am requesting non-exclusive world rights to the use of the materials as part of my work in all languages and for all editions (print and electronic). Unless requested otherwise, I shall use the full, conventional scholarly form of acknowledgement, including author, and title, publisher's name and date.

Please note: Use of American Journal of Botany figures in for-profit publications will incur a charge of $150 each, payable to The Botanical Society of America to support journal developments. Send payment to The Botanical Society of America, P.O. Box 299, St. Louis, MO 63166-0299.

This material is to appear in the following work, which will be published by

Author/ Editor:

Scheduled Year of Publication:

Title:

Sincerely yours,

Permission is hereby granted for the use of the above material in accordance with the terms stated.

Signature: .....

Position: Managing Editor On behalf of: The Botanical Society of America

Mission: The Botanical Society of America exists to promote botany, the field of basic science dealing with the study and inquiry into the form, function, development, diversity, reproduction, evolution, and uses of plants and their interactions within the biosphere.

The objectives of The Society are to: sustain and provide improved formal and informal education about plants; encourage basic plant research; provide expertise, direction, and position statements concerning plants and ecosystems; and foster communication within the professional botanical community, and between botanists and the rest of humankind through publications, meetings, and committees.