

Call for Workshops

BOTANY 2004

July 31 - August 5, 2004

Snowbird Conference Center
Snowbird, Utah

Conference Overview

BOTANY 2004 represents the annual meeting of four professional societies, including: the American Bryological and Lichenological Society (ABLS), the American Fern Society (AFS), the American Society of Plant Taxonomists (ASPT), and the Botanical Society of America (BSA). The conference will be held in Snowbird, Utah from July 31 to August 5, 2004, and the theme for BOTANY 2004 will be "Alpine Diversity: Adapted to the Peaks."

Members of all participating societies are encouraged to organize and present workshops at the annual meeting. Workshops are theme-based, can focus on a variety of educational or research topics, and typically include a hands-on presentation style. Most workshops include either a two-hour, half-day or a full-day program and take place on Sunday (as part of the Education/Outreach Forum), or on Thursday, the days before or after the paper, poster and symposium sessions.

Workshops are ticketed events and generally have limited enrollments. Careful consideration must be given to logistical issues and to support facilities such as computers, laboratory requirements, and seating style.

Submission of Workshop Proposals (Deadline: October 15, 2003)

Proposals should include the following: 1) title of the workshop, 2) name(s) and contact information for all organizers, 3) a brief summary of the workshop, 4) length of workshop, 5) preferred day and time for workshop, 6) support facilities required and enrollment limit, 7) itemized budget (e.g., supplies and food items; estimated cost per participant).

Submission of workshop proposals should be carried out on-line using the "Electronic Workshop Proposal Submission Form" at the BOTANY 2004 web site: <<http://www.botany2004.org/>>. Copies of the proposals will be sent electronically to the sender, the BSA Meetings Manager, and the BSA Program Director. The deadline for receiving workshop proposals is: October 15, 2003.
