Bibliography of American Paleobotany for 1980
Bibliography of American Paleobotany
for 1980

Compiled under the auspices of the Paleobotanical Section
Botanical Society of America

by Arthur D. Watt
Geo Ref
American Geological Institute
Falls Church, VA.

The 1980 Bibliography of American Paleobotany was typed and duplicated at the University of Connecticut, Storrs, Connecticut 06269.
INTRODUCTION

For seventeen years the section has benefited from Art Watt's compilation of the Bibliography. A change in Art's employment, however, signals the approach of his retirement from this invaluable service. Art writes:

"It has been a privilege and honor to have had the opportunity to compile the Bibliography for the past seventeen years. The reason I anticipate relinquishing this enjoyable task is that I have retired from the U. S. Geological Survey and am now employed by the American Geological Institute as an indexer/editor in the GeoRef Project.

With the help of many persons in the Section, the Bibliography of American Paleobotany has retained its status as the outstanding bibliography in its field and has been the inspiration for other countries to follow.

All of the Bibliographies of American Paleobotany back to and including the 1963 edition are being indexed and will soon appear in the Bibliography and Index of Geology."

Art will compile the Bibliography for one more year. Art's services have been invaluable to the field of paleobotany in America and have been selflessly contributed. We all owe Art a vote of thanks and appreciation.

PERSONALIA

On October 3, 1979, Daniel J. Axelrod was awarded the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia's prestigious Hayden Memorial Geologic Award. This honor is bestowed only when an individual has distinguished him/herself for the "best publication, exploration, discovery or research in the sciences of Geology and Paleontology, or in such particular branches thereof as may be designated by the Awards Committee." Dan is only the 35th recipient of the Hayden Award since its establishment in 1888.

Harlan P. Banks is getting older and working like hell.

Philip W. Basson spent the year (Feb. 80-Jan. 81), working with Dr. G. F. Papenfuss on the Indian Ocean benthic marine algae catalogue.

James E. Canright completed his term as President of Amer. Assoc. of Stratigraphic Palynologists (AASP) in October, 1980.

Shyamala Chitaley is to curate the late Dr. John H. Hoskins collection of fossil plants acquired by the Cleveland Museum of Natural History during November, 1980, as a gift from the University of Cincinnati. The collection is comprised of Hoskins types and slides, 1200 references of published literature, 1000 microslides and around 25,000 fossil pieces collected from worldwide localities is now housed in the Paleobotany Department of the Museum.

Chuck Daghlian joined the faculty of Botany and Microbiology at the University of Oklahoma in September 1980, after completing two years of postdoctoral work at the University of Connecticut.

David Dilcher spent September and October at the University of Adelaide (Australia) as a Distinguished Visiting Research Scholar. David worked with Dr. David Christophel on Casuarina fossil and modern flowering material. David traveled to New Caledonia, New Zealand and Fiji while in the South Pacific area.

Over 150 present and former students, family, faculty, and staff gathered in Guyot Hall to celebrate Erling Dorf's 75th birthday.

Robert A. Gastaldo has recently been awarded a Fulbright-Hayes Fellowship to study in the laboratory of Paleobotany and Paleontology, Utrecht University under the direction of Dr. Miente Boersma during the forthcoming 1981-1982 academic year. The project is concerned with megafloral taphonomy of the Lower Pennsylvanian (Westphalian A and B equivalents) in Alabama and northern Europe.

Clara Hires at 84 years old is unable to leave home, exhibit or publish. She is concentrating on selling her two books, vols. I and II of Spores: Ferns: microscopic illusions analysed.

G. O. W. Kerp reports that it is the aim of Paleo Data Banks publications to give as perfect as possible a bibliography for pre-Pleistocene Palynology. Each bibliography cites not only the title and author of each publication of palynomorphs; e.g., spores, pollen, dinoflagellates, chitinozoa, acritarchs, scolconodonts, etc., the geological and geographic location where found, and other details.
Lawrence C. Matten has been appointed associate editor for Palaeontographica.

John S. Penny retired after thirty years of teaching at La Salle College. John was Professor of Botany and former Chairman of the Department of Biology.

Frank W. Potter is curator of paleobotany, Sternberg Museum, Fort Hays State University and is continuing efforts to increase the holdings of Kansas plant fossils, emphasis centers on the Cretaceous.

During January 1981, Greg Retallack joined the Yale University and Geological Survey of Pakistan Expedition to examine sediments of the Late Miocene portion of the Sivalik Group in the Potwar Plateau region of northern Pakistan. Greg will join the faculty of the Geology Department at the University of Oregon, Eugene in September, 1981.

Robert C. Romans was selected by the Student Government Association at Bowling Green State University as the Outstanding Teacher in the College of Arts and Sciences. This was the first such annual award given.

Joe Thomasson is developing a paleobotanical library in the herbarium at Black Hills State College and would appreciate any extra reprints paleobotanists may have of their work.

Robert F. Thorne participated on the post congressional foray at Vancouver in July from Whitehorse in the Yukon Territory to Anchorage in Alaska over alpine tundra, past glaciers, and generally through magnificent scenery. Robert collected some 250 species of Yukon and Alaskan vascular plants, mostly from alpine tundra.

Michael Zavadka received a grant to study Bulgarian language and culture at the summer seminar for Bulgaristics being held in Sofia, Bulgaria for the summer of 1981.
